Strong Equalization Measure, With State Tax Commissioner, Passed by Senate by 29 to 12

Miller-Anderson Substitute to Sheppard Substitute Will Provide State Officer as Well as County Boards of Tax Assessors.

SENATORS CONVERTED BY ABLE SPEECH MADE BY FINANCE CHAIRMAN

Senator Robert DuBose, of Athens, Leads Opposition to Bill—Measure Will Now Go to the House for Action. May Be Considered Today.

After four and a half hours of exhaustive debate, the Miller-Anderson substitute to the Sheppard bill, providing for the creation of a state tax commissioner with offices in the state capital, and county boards of tax assessors, was passed by the state senate by a vote of 29 to 12. Upon the passage of the measure the advocates of the substitute filled the senate chamber with a round of hearty applause, and President Anderson said: "The chair complies and congratulates this body upon passing this bill."

The following is how the senators voted: Ayes—Allen, Brown, Bullock, Burris, Converse, Elkins, Foster, Frazier, Harrell, Hixon, Hunt, Irwin, Jones, of the twenty-first, Johnson, Longenecker, McNeil, Miller, Moore, Perry, Richardson, Rubin, Seay, Solender, Stark, Sweet, Tarver, Turner, Tyson and Watts. Total, 29.

Nays—Bush, Chenault, Dickey, DuBose, Jones, of the thirty-ninth, Kea, McCreary, Olcott, Parrish, Pope, Smith and Taylor. Total, 12.

New Up to the House.
The authors of the substitute, when asked what they thought of its chances of passing the house, said: "We rather not cross the bridge until we get to it." The senate has done its duty by the people, and the whole matter now rests squarely with the house of representatives. The "showing" of the equalization bill is expected, will come up in the house today. It is obvious that the house cannot act intelligently on the general appropriation bill until the Miller-Anderson measure is disposed of, and Chairman Wheeler, of the appropriation committee, intimated last night that he will not call it for the house's consideration until some disposition of the tax reform question is had.

Senator R. B. Miller, of the twenty-fourth district, in championing the measure, spoke for almost three hours, treating the subject in a thoroughly comprehensive and exhaustive manner. Several senators who were lined up against the substitute and one who had signed the minority report of the committee, were won over and voted for the passage of the bill.

No Senate for a Quarter of a Century.
Such an opportunity for the execution of constructive legislation, statehood or partition, has not been afforded since the time of the Georgia-Miller. "No service to the people of Georgia, and especially the poor people, could exceed the one of voting for the passage of this bill."

Means Millions to Georgia.
The purpose of this legislation is to bring to the tax books of the state the unreturned and inevitable property and to effect an equalization of the taxes of Georgia. First, it will bring more than $1,000,000 into the treasury of the state in addition to the present returns; second, it will not increase the rate of tax per cent one iota, but will probably lower the state rate from 5 to 4 mills, and at the same time increase the treasury's returns; third, it will have the valuation of returns on farm lands at the present average rate of $12.25 per acre.

It is generally conceded that county boards of tax assessors should be created, and the remaining issue is over the creation of a head for these boards, to be known as state tax commissioner. Of the $2,000,000 of land in Georgia, only 2,000,000 acres are returned, and the rest are returned with impunity. Now, at the present valuation of $12.25 per acre, these 2,000,000 acres represent a total

TENSION IS LESS BETWEEN MEXICO AND UNITED STATES

Distinct Relief Is Apparent in Official Circles at Washington Over the Course of Events.

NO HOSTILITY SHOWN TO SPECIAL ENVOY LIND

President Wilson Believes Some Persons Want to Cause Intervention, But He Says They Will Fail.

Washington, August 11.—Distinct relief was apparent in official circles here today over the course of events in Mexico. The statement of Frederico Cambo, the new Mexican minister of foreign relations, that he had "great faith in the reasonableness of the judgment of the United States," holding the conviction that the difficulties between the two countries "soon would be adjusted," produced a very favorable impression in administration circles. Secretary Bryan commented optimistically on it, and while some officials also were pleased.

President Wilson pointed out during the day to others what seemed to him conspicuous efforts on the part of some people unknown to him, through published misrepresentations to involve the United States in intervention. He reiterated that the attitude of this government toward Mexico in the present situation was one of peace and friendliness solely.

Tense Moments Ended.
The safe arrival in Mexico City of John Lind, personal representative and officially designated adviser to the American embassy, ended some of the tension which had been hanging over the situation. Administration officials tonight looked forward hopefully to a favorable reception of their efforts to suggest measures of equality in the struggle between the contending factions in Mexico. In the Mexican capital to Mr. Lind's presence there, officials were disposed to believe the program of the American government would be carried out quickly and in such manner as seemed most expedient to Mr. Lind and his advisers.

Lind to Make Suggestions.
Sooner or later Mr. Lind will make suggestions to the Mexican government through the American embassy, but in just what circumstances has not yet been fully determined. But in just what circumstances that properly may be made public will be revealed, according to administration officials here, and foreign governments will be constantly apprised of the various steps taken by the United States. This may not take place, however, for several days.

President Wilson has had no direct communication either with the Huerta government or the constitutionalist authorities, and he indicated to his callers today that he would welcome more information about the purpose of the constitutionalists.

It is learned also that the president has not yet formally considered recognition of the well-known of the constitutionalists, but that instead a territory alone is concerned he regarded as held by the constitutionalists as strong enough in proportion to that controlled by the Huerta government as to make recognition of the constitutionalists not wholly unjustifiable from a diplomatic standpoint.

Senators to Keep Silent.
There were evident in the senate of a determination on the part of the leaders to keep Mexican affairs out of the debate. Members of the foreign relations committee, including President Wilson had exacted no promise from them to do so, and had they agreed the administration should be allowed to carry out its work for the next few days with as little embarrassment as possible.

FOR HIGH CRIMES AND MISDEMEANORS GOV. SULZER IS FACING IMPEACHMENT

Report of Frawley Committee Arraigning Sulzer Adopted and a Resolution to Impeach Is Before House.

CORRUPTION IN OFFICE CHARGED TO GOVERNOR

Alleged He Used Campaign Money to Speculate and Perjured Himself—Many Thousands of Dollars Involved.

Albany, N. Y., August 12.—The report of the Frawley legislative committee charging Governor Sulzer with having diverted campaign contributions to his own private use was adopted by the legislature early today and a resolution to impeach him for "willful and corrupt conduct in office and for high crimes and misdemeanors," was offered in the assembly by Majority Leader Levy.

By a vote of 64 to 30 the assembly passed shortly before 1 o'clock this morning the motion of Assemblyman Levy to consider today the resolution to impeach the governor. The house adjourned at 12:35 a. m. until 11 o'clock Tuesday.

PERJURY IS CHARGED.

The Frawley committee report and the Levy resolution charge the governor with having diverted under oath his campaign contribution accounts diverted some of the funds to his own use for the purchase of stock, traded executive approval of bills for support of his direct primary measure and with having done everything in his power to obstruct the committee's efforts to bring proof of his alleged misconduct to light.

The adoption of the report carried with it a recommendation that Louis T. Sarekey and Frederick L. Colwell, who refused to answer certain questions propounded by the Huerta's counsel, be held in contempt of the legislature and punished. Sarekey and Colwell are characterized in the report as Governor Sulzer's dummies.

Quick Action Wanted.
After introducing his resolution to impeach, Assemblyman Levy asked that its consideration be postponed until tomorrow. This motion was opposed by Minority Leader Hinnman, who had championed the Huerta cause, and by Assemblyman Schapp, leader of the progressives. Both Hinnman and Schapp had led a two-hour fight for postponement of action on the resolution to adopt the Frawley committee report.

The fight in the senate over the adoption of the report was brief. The question was taken up by the senate on one occasion—waiting for the vote on the impeachment of the governor. The light of the library of the executive mansion was burning low and the rest of the big house was dark when the assembly voted to receive the report. Governor Sulzer had waited there all evening, contrary to his usual practice of visiting the capital when the legislature is in session, and heard the news over the telephone. He made no comment thereon.

Before the sun sets today the governor will be impeached, the majority leaders assert.

Fight Begins at Once.

The fight over the proposed impeachment started with the first crack

"BLUE SKY" BILL PASSED IN HOUSE 2,000 MEN LYNCH NEGRO ASSAILANT

School Book Measure and Home for Wayward Girls Dead for Session—McCrory Attacks Rules Committee.

With the passage of the "blue sky" law and the resolution for the appointment of a committee on the W. & A. lease, the present session of the legislature came to an end in as far as the further consideration of house measures is concerned. The senate, through a resolution, informed the house that it will consider no more measures originating in the house at this session, which, in turn, means that the further consideration of new house bills by the house will be useless.

For the remaining three days of the session the house will devote itself to senate bills, and house bills amended by the senate and sent back to the house's concurrence, the most important of which, of course, will be the general appropriation bill and tax equalization.

School Book Bill Killed.
The action of the senate has been the source of considerable disappointment in several quarters. Among the measures which are killed for this session are the McCrory school book bill, and the appropriation for the home for wayward girls, both of whose advocates had hoped for a hearing at this session.

Mr. McCrory, of Shelby, author of the McCrory school book bill, took occasion at the afternoon session of the house to urge to a point of personal Richard Puckett Put to Death at Laurens, S. C., for Usual Crime—Jail Stormed by Mob.

Laurens, S. C., August 12.—A mob of 2,000 men this morning at 1:30 o'clock lynched Richard Puckett, a young negro, charged with criminal assault. After overpowering the sheriff and his deputies the mob broke down two doors of the jail, one to a steel cage, and the other to a room where the prisoner was held. The mob then dragged him to a railway trestle near the passenger station, where he was strung up to a beam. Several hundred shots were fired into his body. The mob then quietly dispersed.

Just before he was killed the negro denied his guilt. Sheriff John V. Owens said tonight the negro confessed to him during the afternoon. The confession, he said, was not made known to the attacking crowd. Drugged From Her Baggy. At a lonely spot on a country road, miles from Laurens, at 11 o'clock this morning the negro attacked a well-known young woman of this country. He dragged her from a baggy as she was driving to Laurens. She drove on to Laurens and stopped at the home of R. A. Cooper, solicitor.

No general alarm was given, but search was begun by the officers. Going just beyond the place of attack, the officers found several negroes at a house. Richard Puckett walked away from the house and Solicitor Cooper directed that he be held. When taken before the young woman, she could not positively identify him. The

ZACHRY BATTLES TO KEEP CHILDREN

Mayor of Harlem Tells Governor Mrs. Zachry Beat Her Husband and Heaped Vulgar Threats Upon Him.

The prospect of Julian J. Zachry, the Augusta attorney, being sent back to Columbia, S. C., on a writ of extradition, issued by Governor Cole L. Blease, charging a violation of the fugitive law, did not loom up bright at the close of the hearing before Governor John M. Slaton yesterday afternoon.

Zachry is charged by his wife, Mary Zachry, from whom he is separated, with kidnapping their eldest child, Frances, aged 1 year. He is also charged with secretly treating the child by carrying her in an automobile to South Carolina to Augusta, and also with failure to support his wife and children.

Crime Must Be Shown.
Although Governor Slaton made no statement as to his attitude at the close of the hearing, except that he would carefully weigh the law and the arguments submitted by George E. Rumbert and C. E. Dunbar, South Carolina's representatives, he clearly indicated by his questions that he will have to be shown that Zachry committed crime in Blease's state and is now a fugitive from justice.

"If I thought this to be an attempt merely to satisfy malice on the part of Mrs. Zachry, or an effort to get possession of the child instead of the application," Governor Slaton said, "I want to show Governor Blease every courtesy that is at my command." The history of the Zachry case, unfolded at Monday's hearing, showed that the couple were married in 1909 and that two children were born to them. Frances, now 1 year, and Mildred, 2 years, were born in Augusta. She returned to her husband in October, last, and threatened her husband with her then contemplating separation proceedings.

Said Wife Beat Husband.
Mayor J. D. Cleary, of Harlem, testified at the hearing before Governor Slaton Monday afternoon that Mrs.

Declares That He Accused Dr. Harris of Scientific Dishonesty and Then Resigned From Board When It Refused to Discharge the Secretary—Joel Hunter Goes on Stand to Testify as to the Amount of Time Necessary on Frank's Books.

When Monday's session of the Leo M. Frank trial came to an end, it was generally conceded that it had been a "bad day" for the defense has thus far had.

Thus, there were no sensational developments and there was nothing particularly startling in the testimony. It was merely the drip, drip of the water on the stone which eventually will wear it away—the stone in this case being the story told by Jim Conley and the statement made by Dr. H. F. Harris that Mary-Ann was choked to death within three quarters of an hour after she had eaten her breakfast of cabbage and bread.

The damage to Conley's story came in the testimony of Herbert Schiff, the superintendent of the National Fertilizer factory, an extremely bright young man, who was on the stand Saturday when he took a rest on Monday. Schiff testified that in the morning of the day when the testimony in any material point. He had a mass of information at his tongue's end regarding the detailed statement which Frank says he made out the Saturday afternoon of the murder. Schiff finally admitted that Frank might have done part of the work in the case, but he stuck to the statement that the work would

Defense Trains Guns on Harris

The big guns of the defense were trained on the expert testimony of Dr. Harris, who made a post-mortem examination of Mary Phagan's body and who testified with a finality which was startling that Mary Phagan's death must have occurred within a half to three-quarters of an hour after eating.

The consensus of expert opinion testifying for the defense was that Dr. Harris was hazarding the wildest sort of a guess.

An interesting echo of the recent differences between Dr. Williams Westmoreland and Dr. Harris was heard when the board failed to remove him while Dr. Westmoreland was on the stand. It will be recalled that Dr. Westmoreland was formerly president of the state board of health and preferred charges against Dr. Harris. When the board failed to remove him, Dr. Westmoreland resigned.

On the stand Monday, Dr. Westmoreland was asked by Solicitor Dorsey what his feelings were toward Dr. Harris. He replied that he had none. Asked as to the trouble he had had with him he replied that he had found Dr. Harris scientifically dishonest.

SUMMER PLEASURES

Is about the wildest guess I ever heard of.

Dr. Westmoreland stated that he had made an examination of Frank and found him to be normal.

In reply to a question by Solicitor Dorsey, Dr. Westmoreland said that he was not a physician, but a chemist, and that he was not a member of the medical profession.

Dr. J. C. Olmstead's testimony was in the nature of a cross-examination of Dr. Harris. Dr. Olmstead also contradicted the conclusions reached by Dr. Harris.

Dr. Harris testified that blood could and probably would flow out of a wound after a person was dead. Dr. Harris testified that this would be impossible.

He told of having made several tests on persons eating cabbage and bread and exhibited samples taken from the stomachs of these persons at various times. The net result of these experiments was to show that cabbage takes three and one-half to four hours to digest.

Dr. Harris stated that he had made an examination of Leo M. Frank and found him to be normal, so far as he could discover. He confessed, however, that he was not an authority on homosexuality. He also said he was not an expert on stomach trouble.

Expert Flatly Contradicts Guesswork and Not Science The Testimony of Dr. Harris Asserts Dr. J. C. Olmstead

Professor George Bachman, professor of physiology in the Atlanta College of Physicians and Surgeons, and formerly a demonstrator of physiology in Jefferson Medical college, was put on the stand following Schiff.

By him the defense made a further attack on the deductions of Dr. H. M. Harris. He declared that the statements made by Dr. Harris amounted to guess work, according to his knowledge of the subject.

"What is your nationality, professor?" Mr. Arnold asked.

"I am a citizen of Atlanta," replied Dr. Bachman.

"I mean where were you born?"

"I was born a Frenchman," replied Dr. Bachman.

"Do you investigate chemistry as regards digestion?" Mr. Arnold then asked.

"Yes, I teach that subject," replied Dr. Bachman.

"Does it take you more time to digest food than it takes to pass into the intestine?"

"It is acted upon after that," replied Dr. Bachman.

"Does the stomach digest food?"

"Yes, it does," replied Dr. Bachman.

"What about the stomach?"

"The stomach is a muscular organ," replied Dr. Bachman.

"Does it take you more time to digest food than it takes to pass into the intestine?"

"It is acted upon after that," replied Dr. Bachman.

"Does the stomach digest food?"

"Yes, it does," replied Dr. Bachman.

"What about the stomach?"

"The stomach is a muscular organ," replied Dr. Bachman.

Solicitor Dorsey could not be denied by that, but consulting a paper before him, fired "acrobatic" at the witness.

After the court stenographer had given another guess and the word "acrobatic" was used, the witness asserted that he was thoroughly familiar with the stomach and its contents, and the solicitor turned to other subjects.

"With the stomach perfectly normal, how far down do you get a reaction for starch?" he next asked.

"You get it away down," replied Dr. Bachman.

"As soon as it gets there," replied Dr. Bachman.

The expert then stated that all forms of soluble starch may be found in the stomach.

The solicitor then asked a number of questions about the contents of the stomach, and Dr. Bachman's answers were in the nature of a cross-examination of Dr. Harris.

"I have been a physician for thirty-six years and am a graduate of the University of Virginia and the University of New York."

"Would you characterize such an opinion as the one you have read of by Dr. Harris as being a guess or a scientific conclusion?"

"As with a guess as I've ever heard."

Corroborates Other Doctors.

He was questioned extensively along the same line of questions as were put to Dr. Westmoreland and Dr. Hancock relative to the conflicting opinions of ascertaining the period of time that had elapsed since the death of a corpse. His answers were in the nature of a cross-examination of Dr. Harris.

"Did you ever hear of a test being made on a corpse that had any scientific value?"

"No."

"Would an opinion resulting from such a test be a scientific conclusion or a guess?"

"It would be an absurd guess, so I would not know how to characterize it."

"Does strangulation result in distention of blood vessels in the female organs?"

"Frequently."

"How long does it take ordinary bread to digest?"

"Between two hours and two hours and a half."

"At what stage of digestion does hydrochloric acid enter the stomach?"

"As soon as food arrives."

Here the cross-examination began. If two ordinary stomachs, both of which are normal, eat an amount of cabbage cooked in a similar manner to that which was eaten by the victim, it would take one hour and a half to two hours to digest it.

"Suppose a chemist had made an examination of the food after death and had revealed pancreatic juice, would you not be satisfied that it was not a guess?"

"No, sir. I'd be surprised if he did find them and would like to know just how he did find them."

"Did you hear him say he could?"

"No, I did not."

"Did you see him write in the basement?"

"Yes, I saw him write in the basement."

"Did you see him write in the basement?"

"Yes, I saw him write in the basement."

By a series of questions the solicitor tried to show that the witness had written in the basement at one point and made him admit a mistake. The witness then testified that he had written in the basement at one point and made him admit a mistake.

Dr. Harris testified that blood could and probably would flow out of a wound after a person was dead. Dr. Harris testified that this would be impossible.

He told of having made several tests on persons eating cabbage and bread and exhibited samples taken from the stomachs of these persons at various times. The net result of these experiments was to show that cabbage takes three and one-half to four hours to digest.

Dr. Harris stated that he had made an examination of Leo M. Frank and found him to be normal, so far as he could discover. He confessed, however, that he was not an authority on homosexuality. He also said he was not an expert on stomach trouble.

An interesting echo of the recent differences between Dr. Williams Westmoreland and Dr. Harris was heard when the board failed to remove him while Dr. Westmoreland was on the stand. It will be recalled that Dr. Westmoreland was formerly president of the state board of health and preferred charges against Dr. Harris. When the board failed to remove him, Dr. Westmoreland resigned.

On the stand Monday, Dr. Westmoreland was asked by Solicitor Dorsey what his feelings were toward Dr. Harris. He replied that he had none. Asked as to the trouble he had had with him he replied that he had found Dr. Harris scientifically dishonest.

Schiff Admits He Kept Conley Knowing He Was Worthless

H. G. Schiff, Leo Frank's assistant in the National Penitentiary, was put on the stand for a conclusion of the state's cross-examination when court convened Monday morning.

"How many boys were there that you may not have been worked on Friday night and taken to the hospital?" asked Solicitor Dorsey.

"The financial sheet and those papers I showed you Saturday," Schiff replied.

"How do you know they were not finished Friday?"

"Because when I left the office Friday I had not yet put the data for the witnesses."

"If Frank had started to work at 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning and had worked until 10:30, then he could not have been worked," asked the solicitor.

"Yes, I think he could have," Schiff replied.

"Isn't it true that he could have worked in one and a half hours?"

"No, I don't think that possible."

Dr. Harris testified that blood could and probably would flow out of a wound after a person was dead. Dr. Harris testified that this would be impossible.

NEGRO DROWNS SELF TO ESCAPE POSSE

Tallahassee, Fla., August 11.—(Special.)—A negro named John B. Baskin, a negro who shot Deputy Sheriff Mattie several weeks ago, drowned himself today in Lake Jackson. A sheriff's posse Baskin never went far from the scene of his crime.

The negro was chased to the lake by bloodhounds after a colored woman had telephoned to Sheriff Houston that he had stopped at her house during the day for food. Despite the fact that he had been repeatedly sought by a sheriff's posse Baskin never went far from the scene of his crime.

Dr. Hancock, Called by Defense, MADE CABBAGE DIGESTION EXPERIMENTS Assails Dr. Harris' Testimony

Dr. T. H. Hancock, a well known Atlanta physician, was the first of three medical experts to be presented in the afternoon in behalf of the defense. Dr. Hancock is official physician of the Georgia Railway and Electric company, and is a man of twenty-two years' experience.

An astonishing feature of his testimony was the statement he made in answer to a question from Attorney Arnold to the effect that he had treated 14,000 surgery cases, a record hitherto unparalleled in Georgia history. He was examined directly by Dr. Arnold.

"What is your occupation, Dr. Hancock?"

"I have been a physician and surgeon for the past twenty-two years."

"How many cases of surgery have you treated?"

"About 14,000."

"Have you made a physical examination of Leo M. Frank?"

"Yes."

"Is he normal?"

"He is perfectly normal."

"You have read the stenographic report of the testimony delivered by Dr. Harris, haven't you?"

"Yes."

"If a subject dies, and eight or ten hours after death, one gallon of blood is taken from the body and is replaced by one gallon of embalming fluid, 90 per cent of which is formaldehyde, and eight or ten days after death the body is examined and examination made on the head reveals a wound and hemorrhage near the brain, could the physician who made the examination ascertain whether or not death was caused by the wound?"

"No, not entirely."

"Could only guess at opinion."

"Are there any means to tell whether or not such a blow produced consciousness before death?"

"No."

"Wouldn't such an opinion be conjecture?"

"The purely guess work."

"If a wound was made during life, wouldn't there have been considerable flow of blood?"

"There might have been, and might not."

"In case it had been made by a sharp instrument?"

"The probability would be much blood, but not by a blunt instrument."

"Suppose the lungs of such a subject had been examined visually and no congestion was found, is it possible to tell whether or not death was caused by strangulation?"

"I have had a great experience in such cases. Authorities, however, on this point are widely divided."

"If the stomach were removed and an examination made of contents and blood and cabbage, partly digested, would it be possible to determine the period the food had been in the organ—could an intelligent opinion be reached?"

"No—nobody could."

"Where does the indigestion begin, doctor?"

"In the mouth."

"Where does the indigestion of cabbage begin?"

"I'm not what you might call an expert on indigestion."

"What time does cabbage require to digest?"

"I would say from three to four hours."

"Is it possible for foods not mulcted to obstruct the passage into the stomach?"

"Yes."

"Aren't there many things which retard digestion?"

"Yes, excitement, anger, violent exertion, retard digestion, as well as other things."

"Has cabbage had formaldehyde on the parietic juices?"

"It stops all process of fermentation."

"Then after formaldehyde had been injected, would you expect to find the parietic juices?"

"No."

"Or pepsin?"

"No, nor saliva."

"You think that by any chemical analysis you could give any dependable opinion of how long this particular cabbage had been in the subject's stomach?"

"No."

"Have you made on men or women any tests on cabbage?"

"Exhibits Results of Experiments."

"Yes, I experimented yesterday with four men and one woman."

"Here the witness produced a number of test tubes containing stomach contents which had been drawn from the men and women with whom he had experimented. The vials were numbered respectively."

"No, I," he said, "I gave to a young woman, white, aged 22 years, at five minutes after 12 o'clock. The cabbage was mixed with white bread. I produced opinion in sixty-nine minutes."

The cabbage and bread had been macerated for nine minutes.

"No, I," he said, "I gave to a woman middle-aged. It was bolted down in large pieces. It remained in her stomach forty-two minutes."

"No, I," he said, "I gave to a woman 23 years old. It was not so much chewed as that. In specimen No. 1, I re-remembered for thirty-five minutes, after which time I produced emesis. A portion of tomato, which she had eaten at breakfast at 8:30, was vomited with the cabbage. Emesis took place at 1:15 o'clock."

"No, I," he said, "I gave to a man aged 20, remaining in his stomach forty-five minutes, after which time it was disgorged by emesis."

"No, I," he said, "I gave to a woman aged 25, who ate it at 5 o'clock this morning. It was chewed well and vomited in two hours and twenty-eight minutes."

"Take the case of a 14-year-old girl, doctor." Mr. Arnold questioned, "when a chemist finds the epithelium detached from the walls, and finds also that blood vessels in the female organs are congested, and upon making this find, learns that the digestion had been made, what could have caused the epithelium to become detached from the walls?"

"Digital Examination the Cause."

"If an examination could have caused the rupture of the blood vessels in the stomach, it would only be expected to shed off after death."

"Would that necessarily indicate any cause of violence?"

"No."

"Aren't conditions like that caused often by things other than violence?"

"Suppose the man who found these conditions believed that there was violence, could he tell how long before death it had been inflicted?"

"Would death by strangulation cause dilated blood vessels in the female organism?"

"It depends. It might in one case, but not in another."

Solicitor Beggs Cross-Examination.

Here the solicitor began the cross-examination.

"Are you surgeon for the Georgia Railway and Power company, aren't you, doctor?"

"Yes."

"Are you familiar with the standing of 'The American Medical Journal'?"

"I know that it represents medical, eclectic and pathological schools and colleges of medicine."

"Are you acquainted with O. H. Brill of Columbia, where you graduated?"

"No."

"You don't mean to say, do you, that homo-sexuality is confined to defected patients?"

"In my experience, I have not touched much on that line."

"Didn't you say you had examined Frank?"

"Yes, but I judged merely from his outward appearance."

"You know but little, then, of homo-sexuality?"

"I do not undertake to tell the jury any expert testimony on the examination of Frank."

"Are you an expert on stomach and intestines?"

"No, I can't say that I am."

"In order to give a good statement of stomach conditions, you must be an expert, eh?"

"I am a practicing physician, and they generally know as much of the stomach as any others."

JUNIOR ORDER MEETS FOR STATE CONVENTION

Expected That Benj. J. Simons, of Savannah, Will Be Elected State Councilor.

Macon, Ga., August 11.—(Special)—The biennial state convention of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics will convene in Macon tomorrow morning with about 160 delegates in attendance. This will be the nineteenth meeting held in this state.

It is expected that Benjamin J. Simons, of Savannah, will be elected state councilor, succeeding Judge Walter W. Sheppard, of Chatham and Savannah.

The convention will be in session only two days this year, and for that reason the Macon lodge has been requested to eliminate the social features, and the convention will be given over to business entirely.

Considerable interest centers in the endorsement of a man to fill the position of national councilor. At the last national convention, John Soder, of Savannah, was elected national councilor. The following are the present state officers: Judge Walter W. Sheppard, of Chatham and Savannah, state councilor; Benjamin J. Simons, of Savannah, state vice councilor; T. B. Riddley, of Macon, junior past state councilor; J. E. Lovelace, of Atlanta, state secretary; O. H. Buckett, of Atlanta, state treasurer; A. B. Cooper, of Riverside, state conductor; W. Kersey, of Macon, state warden; E. S. Horton, of Macon, state outside sentinel; Rev. W. E. Porter, of Brunswick, state chaplain.

As the Very Wildest of Guessing Dr. Westmoreland Characterizes Testimony Given by Dr. Harris

Dr. Willis Westmoreland, former head of the state board of health, who resigned some time ago after the board gave a clean bill to Dr. H. F. Harris, the secretary, whom he had accused of "scientific dishonesty," followed Dr. Hancock on the stand.

He also read the examination conducted by Dr. Frank, stating in answer to Mr. Arnold's question that he had found the accused man to be normal.

He was questioned by Dr. Arnold.

"What is your calling?"

"I am a physician of twenty-eight years' experience."

"What is your main practice?"

"General medicine and surgery."

"Have you occupied any chairs of prominence during your career?"

"Former Head of State Board."

"I formerly occupied the chair of surgery in the Atlanta College of Surgery and at one time was president of the Georgia College of Surgeons."

A number of questions of the same nature were put to Dr. Westmoreland pertaining to Dr. Harris' testimony of his opinion of the time of death and his belief that violence had been inflicted were asked Dr. Westmoreland. His replies were substantiation of Dr. Harris.

"Could you determine how long this wheatbread and cabbage had been in the subject's stomach?"

"No, no, anyone else. It would be the wildest guessing I have ever made."

"Isn't there an ascending and descending state of acidity in the stomach?"

"How long would cabbage like this specimen, which is said to have been removed from the body remain in the stomach?"

"Until the process of digestion had completed."

"Doctor, couldn't one man eat another man's stomach and the acids that would digest the foreign matter benefit the stomach in which it had been placed?"

"Yes."

"Have you ever known such stomach tests to have ever been made before on dead bodies?"

"No."

Says Harris Destroyed Specimens.

"Have you ever before known a chemist to make an analysis in a lawsuit of parts of a body then destroy the parts without showing them to the other side or produce them in court?"

"No."

"Such conduct is unethical, isn't it?"

An objection was made by Dorsey to this question.

Mr. Arnold, in argument, said:

"Here is a case of an alleged chemist who is hired by Dorsey and who takes the specimens to his own back room and, after he has finished with them, destroys them. I want to show that it was unethical and unprecedented."

Solicitor Dorsey replied:

"It is irrelevant in every respect, and should not be permitted."

Judge Roan ruled, however, that the rules and ethics of the medical profession could be shown by the witness.

"What are your ideas of ethics?"

Dr. Westmoreland was asked:

"In the case of a chemist destroying the specimen, I would first call in another expert or preserve the specimens of my test."

"If you take the case of the stripped epithelium after a digital examination has been made, and the hemorrhage and the distended blood vessels in the female organ, is that any indication of violence?"

"The epithelium is easily separated and a digital examination could have detached it from the organ. Such conditions would not necessarily indicate violence."

Opinion Would Be Rash.

"In such a case, could a chemist give a scientific opinion on violence?"

"No. Such an opinion would be the wildest of guesses."

"Did you examine Leo Frank?"

"Yes."

"Does he appear to be a normal man?"

"Yes."

The cross-examination was then pursued by the solicitor.

"Aren't sexual inversions normal so far as physicians are concerned?"

"Yes, unless they belong to certain classes."

"Aren't there about three classes?"

"Yes, about four."

"If a corpse is hit on the eye with the fist, what's the effect?"

"Discoloration."

"If there is a blow on the back of the head with no fracture of the skull and no effect on the brain and but little blood, accompanied by a deep indentation in the throat, livid features, purple fingers and nails, bulging eyes and a swollen face, would you say caused death?"

"Yes."

Called by Strangulation.

"Strangulation under those conditions—"

"Would the lick on the eye cause swelling if inflicted after death?"

"It is possible."

"It is possible for a digital examination to be made without impairing the blood vessels, walls or organs, isn't it?"

"Yes."

"How long does it take cabbage to digest?"

"About four hours."

"What is your personal feeling toward Dr. H. F. Harris, kindly or unkindly?"

"Neither one way or the other."

"What has been your past connection?"

"I was the president of the state board of health and obtained him the position of secretary."

Direct examination was resumed by Mr. Arnold.

"Was it your trouble with Dr. Harris?"

"I preferred charges against him for scientific dishonesty, and when the board found him guilty, but refused to drop him, I resigned."

"Do you consider him the same doctor he used to be?"

"I know he isn't."

"There is a final question I will ask, doctor: If the girl who was killed had received the blow on the head at the lathing machine, wouldn't she have died instantly and wouldn't big blood spots have been on the machine and in the spot where they say her body had been laid?"

"Yes, more than likely."

Mr. Dorsey continued the cross-examination.

"Wouldn't water have eradicated fresh blood?"

"Blood is a difficult stain to remove."

He was then called from the stand.

Frank's Financial Sheet Would Take 3 Hours Work to Finish —Joel Hunter

Joel Hunter, an expert accountant, was put on the stand to testify to the amount of work required in the compilation of the financial sheet upon which the defense declares Leo Frank worked during the afternoon Mary Phagan was murdered.

"What is your occupation?" he was asked by Mr. Arnold.

"I am a public accountant."

"Do you hold a position with the state board?"

"Yes, I belong to the board of examiners."

"Did you examine Leo Frank's financial sheet?"

"Yes."

"Did his assistant, Schiff, acquaint you with the data contained in the report?"

"Yes."

"Did you go through all the work required to make the report?"

"Yes, but I did not make a new sheet. I only made the calculations and verifications."

"Did you find them correct?"

"All except one item."

The witness explained thoroughly to the jury the tedious process of compiling the financial sheet.

"What time does it take to make out this sheet?"

"I would judge about 150 to 170 minutes, and it is within that length of time it would take a man with a superior knowledge of the process of compilation."

Mr. Hooper took the witness from cross-examination.

"You couldn't calculate on the exact length of time, could you, inasmuch as you're not familiar with the work yourself?"

"No, exactly."

"You say it took you more than three hours to make this report?"

"If it was made in the afternoon, then, it would take all the afternoon, wouldn't it?"

"Yes, practically so."

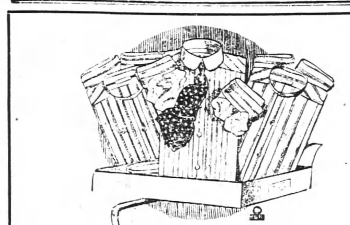

"It would hardly give time for the report to be made, wouldn't it?"

"I would not think so. I didn't study that phase of it, however."

"It would take all afternoon with no time to do anything else, wouldn't it?"

"I would certainly think so."

Washington Seminary

ITS BOARDING DEPARTMENT

In the formative period of the life of girls who are away from home at school, proper home influences must be exerted in the school. To meet this need, Washington Seminary, Atlanta, maintains a strictly limited boarding department for girls from thirteen to twenty years of age.

It provides for them an elegant home, as beautiful in all its appointments as the most expensive private residences. The rooms are large, nicely furnished, and almost all have private baths connecting.

Students and teachers live together as a family, under a family method of government, and the faculty is thus able to exercise a careful oversight of all the girls' interests—health, amusements, studies, and moral training.

Illustrated catalogue and full information may be had on application to L. D. & E. B. Scott, Principals, 1374 Peachtree Road, or phone IV 5672-J.

New York, August 11.—With reference to the resignation of Governor Sulzer, the statement made late last night that his account with the stock exchange house of Harris, Egan & Co. was not a speculative one, but a loan, the firm issued this afternoon the following statement:

"The statement of Judge Olcott, our attorney, before the Frawley committee, previous to the testimony of Mr. Melville B. Fuller, explains our position perfectly.

"When the value of the collateral contracted so that the equity in the loan was below the required amount, of course it was necessary to make use of our own money for more collateral.

"When we delivered the collateral the equity in the loan at the time was approximately $10,000, and considered ample to protect the loan.

Jerome Jones Returns.

Jerome Jones, editor of The Atlanta Journal, returned yesterday from his visit to the country in the interests of organized labor, who has been absent from the city for more than a month because of illness at home again, but not strong enough to resume his newspaper work. Mr. Jones' health has been improving since his return from his visit to the country in the early summer. He was to visit Borden-Wheeler Springs, Ala., by his physician for a complete rest. It may be several weeks yet before he will be able to resume his work.

Richard Joyner Better.

Captain W. R. Joyner, for many years efficient chief of the Atlanta fire department, yesterday received a letter from his son, Richard W. Joyner, who is now in the hospital at the University of Chicago, bringing the information that the former Atlanta is now convalescing. The Joyner was taken ill with typhoid fever a month ago and for many days his condition was extremely critical, but the devoted care of his wife and the best medical attention obtainable seems to have brought him through safely. Richard Joyner has now been a resident of Dallas, Texas for three years.

Mother and Neighbors, Powerless to Aid, Watch Youth Hang by Hands for Half Hour.

Attracted by the screams of the boy's mother, hundreds of people rushed to the home of Z. R. Rosberry, 418 East Georgia avenue, Monday morning at 10 o'clock, to find 8-year-old Max Rosberry hanging by his hands from the top of a large tree in the front yard. Powerless to aid him, the distracted mother and neighbors stood by and watched the apparently lifeless form of the child for nearly half an hour, when a street car motorman, passing by, climbed into the tree and brought the boy down. He was unconscious and part of his right hand, which had been clamped about the top of the tree, was badly bruised. Dr. W. H. Wright, who attended him, stated that the boy was not seriously injured.

ONEAL IS WARRIOR HE ASKS POWER

To Appoint Successor to Late Senator Johnston—Democrats Wire Alabama Governor to Observe the Law.

Washington August 11.—A telegram was sent tonight to democratic leaders in Alabama by Senator O'Neal, acting chairman of the senate judiciary committee, advising them that Governor O'Neal, in the opinion of the democratic lawyers in the senate, had no power to appoint a successor to the late Senator Joseph P. Johnston.

The message added that a majority of the lawyer senators held the governor could call a special election at once, but qualified this by adding that there was much discussion as to the propriety of the judiciary committee's opinion. It was necessary to call the legislature into session at a special session.

Governor O'Neal, Senator Bankhead and others had asked for an opinion from the judiciary committee as to the propriety of filling the vacancy under the terms of the recent constitutional amendment providing for the direct election of senators.

Some of the senators viewed the day's discussion as indicative of delay in filling the seat. They urged that it would consume too much time to hold a special session of the Alabama legislature, should Governor O'Neal decide upon that course.

The warning to Governor O'Neal, Senator Overman's telegram read: "By law, amendment of the constitution is charged with duty of issuing writs of election to fill the vacancy."

By the amendment, Governor O'Neal is charged with duty of issuing writs of election to fill the vacancy. It is pointed out that this will be the entire question squarely up to the senate itself, which is the final judge of its own members.

valuation of more than $15,000,000, which is lost to the state.

Senator Miller read from the report of the committee, showing that each year the counties are assessed at different values.

It is pointed out that this will be the entire question squarely up to the senate itself, which is the final judge of its own members.

CARLOAD SHIPMENTS OF LIQUOR TO FITZGERALD HAVE RESULTED IN WARM MUNICIPAL CAMPAIGN

Fitzgerald, Ga., August 11.—(Special.)—A prohibition campaign is in progress.

There are now seven near beer saloons doing business in this city under a $1,000 license from the council, and it is openly charged by the day that every one of these saloons are selling "near" beer and real liquor.

Fifty Barrels of Liquor.
Recently a shipment of fifty barrels was received and the prohibitionists are making a big thing out of it.

White Primary is Record.
The white primary is a record for the city of Fitzgerald.

Save House is Inconvenient.
The house is inconvenient for the people's representatives to come here and for the people to come here.

Indicative of Delay.
Some of the senators viewed the day's discussion as indicative of delay in filling the seat.

The Warning to Governor O'Neal.
Senator Overman's telegram read: "By law, amendment of the constitution is charged with duty of issuing writs of election to fill the vacancy."

By the amendment, Governor O'Neal is charged with duty of issuing writs of election to fill the vacancy.
